New East-West Crisis Develops In United Nations

America Blocks Ukraine's Effort For Seat On Security Council

ISSUE HELD OVER AFTER NINE BALLOTS

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Oct. 2.—Bitterness between Russia and the United States intensified further today in the United Nations general assembly.

America's blocking of the Ukraine for a seat on the 1948 security council led to this new crisis between the east and the west. Soviet Delegates Andrei Vishinsky and Andrei Gromyko flatly blame United States opposition against the Ukraine and U. S. support of India for the deadlock which compelled the assembly to adjourn the issue until next week after nine futile ballots.

Delegates In Despair

The thousands delegates shook their heads in despair over the play of power politics between the east and west factions and said that failure to elect two additional countries to the trusteeship council also hinged on the bloc voting.

The Philippines, Norway, Costa Rica and Siam will go into another round for the two trusteeship seats next week.

Some of the leading delegates believe the locking of horns between the United States and Russia on the security council seat being vacated by Poland at the end of the year deepened the east and west conflict even more than the security council veto issue and the Greek question.

Vishinsky and his five supporting satellites have circulated the hint that Russia will undertake drastic retaliatory measures if the Ukraine is defeated, thus isolating the Soviet Union in the security council through election of non-satellite India.

Two More Vetoes Used By Russia

Soviet Delegation Vetoes
Admittance Of Italy And Finland To United Nations

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Oct. 2.—(INS)—The Soviet delegation was on record today with a double veto against the admission of Italy and Finland as members of the United Nations.

Russian Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko exercised vetoes Nos. 21 and 22 after the security council had voted 9 to 2 to admit both nations. At the same time the council rejected the applications for membership of Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria.

Supported by Gromyko, Polish Delegate Katz-Suchy sought unsuccessfully to force the council to vote en bloc on the applications of all five nations.

The United States, Britain and other nations favored a Belgian resolution calling for a vote on each state separately.

American Delegate Warren R. Austin in opposing Bulgaria's admission said that nation had failed to show it is a peace-loving state.

Housewives Given Food-Saving Plan

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(INS)—American housewives were asked to follow this five-point program to save food:

- (1) Buy cheaper cuts, eliminating "fancy steaks" which must come from fattened, grain-fed cattle.
- (2) Don't serve too much; eat only what meat you need.
- (3) Don't overcook meat. Too much cooking shrinks it.
- (4) Use left-overs to make hash, stews, soups and stuffed tomatoes.
- (5) Cut down on poultry, eggs, butter and cheese in order to save grains needed to produce them.

Free Enterprise System On Trial Sen. Martin Warns

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2.—(INS)—U. S. Sen. Edward Martin (R-Pa.), warned the nation today that the American free enterprise system is on trial.

"There are those who would destroy it," the Pennsylvania Senator cautioned 500 state leaders of industry, finance and commerce at a textile foundation dinner in Philadelphia.

Senator Martin asked Americans not to be swayed from their "hard won freedom and initiative" with a promise of "cradle-to-grave security, granted by total government."

Wind Up Without Either

The former Pennsylvania governor said history has proved that peoples sacrificing their freedom for "total government security" wind up without either.

"Whenever such a trade has been made," Senator Martin said, "the

Foil Attempt To Ship Girl By Air Express

FRANKFURT, Oct. 2.—(INS)—An attempt by a G.I. to ship a pretty 20-year-old German girl by air express to the United States was foiled today.

The girl, Doris Van Kooblock, was found curled up aboard a plane in a wooden box which measured two feet wide, two feet high and was one and one-half yards long.

The box, consigned to a New York address by a G.I. whose name was withheld, was left at the freight office of an overseas airline while the G.I. sought to obtain enough money to send it by freight.

Operations Officer William Waring, of Long Beach, N. Y., became suspicious when he detected a slight movement and investigated. He found that although the lid of the box appeared to be screwed

Hope To Create Rain To Combat Fires In Texas

CONROE, Tex., Oct. 2.—(INS)—Forest service authorities hoped today to extinguish the series of timberland fires still raging in southeastern Texas by making rain with dry ice despite the failure of the first attempt.

More than 100 pounds of dry ice were sent to the first fire area from Houston for rain-making purposes, but the clouds proved "uncooperative" yesterday, and the experiment was not completed.

Another attempt at making rain by saturating dry ice among the clouds from a plane was scheduled to be made today.

Incendiary Origin

The fires which were believed to be of incendiary origin were still raging in five Texas counties, but the situation was reported "much improved."

Texas Rangers have expressed the opinion that the fires were touched off by squatters who were seeking to drive large land owners from the timberlands.

The loss from the fires was estimated from a low of $450,000 to $9 million dollars, but forest service workers said it still was impossible to determine the amount of damage at this time.

An estimated 110 blazes were reported raging during the peak of the fires. This number has been reduced to less than 90.

Lay Off 2500 In Great Britain's New Program

LONDON, Oct. 2.—(INS)—The first pinch of Britain's new austerity program was felt today in the layoff of up to 2,500 employees of British European Airways.

The dismissals came as the ban against non-essential foreign travel came into effect and hit hard at the usual flow of traffic to the continent.

Britain's new economic czar, Sir Stafford Cripps, warned that industries using steel and other raw materials must achieve a specified export goal before they can receive further supplies.

Charges Truman Seeking To Pass Buck To Congress

House Majority Leader Says
President Has Authority
To Call Congress

REPUBLICANS TO DEMAND FACTS

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—House Majority Leader Halleck today accused President Truman of attempting to pass the buck to Republican Congressional leaders on calling a special session to consider aid for Europe.

The Indiana Republican declared, however, that "the Republican Congress, and its leaders, will meet that responsibility with courage, wisdom and patriotic devotion to the best interests of the country."

No Decision Yet

Whether that meant the Congressional "Big Four," including Halleck, might recall Congress on its own initiative, the Congressman did not say. Halleck added that he is not yet prepared to state whether Congress should reconvene before Jan. 2, when it is scheduled to meet again.

Halleck said he preferred to wait until the facts had been presented to Congressional committees next month when hearings will be held on the President's proposal that

ficials Announce Selection
Of New Manager

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—(INS)—Pittsburgh Pirate officials announced today that Bill Meyer, 54-year-old veteran minor league manager, has been signed to succeed Billy Herman as pilot of the Pirates.

The formal announcement was made by Club President Frank E. McKinney, who also revealed that Hank Greenberg, the old slugging outfielder, had asked for and would be given his release.

Both of these developments in the "new era" for the Pirates were expected.

Herman resigned from his $23,000 a year management of the team only a few days ago with one year of his two-year contract to go.

Russia Refuses Visa To Senators And Cabinet Man

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(INS)—Russia's refusal to issue a visa to a Senate committee and an Assistant Secretary of State into Moscow today found the State Department handling another hot potato in its already strained relations with the Kremlin.

Top officials are debating a course of U. S. policy as a result, with a more rigid scrutiny of future Russian applications to enter this country probably constituting the best answer.

Although Chairman Bridges (R-N. H.), 10 other members of the Senate Appropriations Committee, Assistant Secretary of State John E. Pennington and 4 other American officials concededly were affronted by the curt Soviet rejection, there was a disposition to tread gingerly in the situation.

Taylor conferred with Mr. Truman for three-quarters of an hour, but declined to comment to reports on the nature of his report. He said, however, that the President "may have something to say about it in a few days."

The special envoy conferred with Pope Pius XII as well as a number of governmental leaders in Europe.

East Indonesian Cabinet Resigns Minister's Wife Dies In Crash

MACASSAR, Celebes, Oct. 2.—(INS)—The East Indonesia cabinet resigned today following the ousting of Premier Nadjmoedin Daeng Malewa on charges of corruption in fulfilling his duties.

An official communiqué said that the cabinet's action did not constitute a crisis, but was merely designed to pave the way for formation of a new and broader cabinet in the wake of the premier's dismissal on September 11.

ASK TAX RULING

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 2.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania supreme court today was asked to rule on the constitutionality of the Robinson township school district "severance" tax on coal.

The English & McCormick Coal Co. filed a petition asking the court to take original jurisdiction in deciding the legality of the coal severance tax.

Their petition asserted that Robinson township violated and overstepped the state constitution.

Overell Murder Case May Reach Jury On Friday

By JAMES PADGITT
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

SANTA ANA, Cal., Oct. 2.—The fate of heiress Beulah Louise Overell and her college sweetheart, George (Bud) Gollum, will probably be in the hands of the Overell murder trial jury sometime tomorrow.

This was indicated as the 19-week case neared its close today.

S. B. Kaufman, one of the attorneys for Gollum, was scheduled to make his final plea to the jury today followed by a final word from Special Prosecutor Eugene D. Williams.

Whether Superior Judge Kenneth E. Morrison will get around to his final instructions to the jury late today was not certain.

Long Deliberation Seen

When the jury gets the case the six men and six women will consider the verdict between the hours of 9 a. m. and 11 p. m. every day until a decision is reached. There will be no week-end holiday for the jurors. They will deliberate even through Saturday and Sunday if a decision is not reached.

The defense in its final summation yesterday hurled all manner of charges at the prosecution's witnesses, even going so far as to call some of them "certified liars."

The defense attorneys, in their final attempt to influence the jury to return verdicts of innocence for charges that they murdered their wealthy parents and dynamited their yacht to hide the crime, even brought up the disposition of the Walter E. Overell estate should Louise be convicted.

Find Wreckage Of Plane That

Four To Death

FRESNO, Cal., Oct. 2.—(INS)—A grim mystery of nearly five years' standing was solved today with the identification of a demolished plane found atop the 13,700-foot-high Darwin Glacier in the High Sierra.

From markings on the wreckage the craft was identified as a plane which had disappeared—with four men aboard—during a routine wartime training flight after taking off from Sacramento, Cal., Nov. 19, 1942.

Pilot of the plane was Lt. W. R. Gamber, 23, of Fayette, O. The other three who lost their lives in the mountaintop crash were Air Corps Cadets Eugene Munn, 23, of Cleveland, O.; John M. Mortenson, 25, of Moscow, Ida.; and L. M. Mustonen, 22, of Brainerd, Minn.

The wreckage in the mountains behind Fresno was reached by an army search squad flown to the area in two transport planes from Hamilton Field.

Senators Balk At Giving Huge Funds To Europe

Favor Feeding Of Starving
But Want To Be Shown
On Other Aid

By FRANK B. ALLEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Sen. Langer (R-N. D.), announced today he will fight the Marshall Plan or any other aid to Europe that goes beyond feeding hungry people.

The North Dakota Republican, who made lengthy speeches against the British and Greek-Turkish loans, said he similarly will oppose the Marshall Plan. He declared:

Only For Food Aid

"I oppose any loans or gifts over there of any kind or character except to feed hungry people.

"I believe in the traditional American policy of not letting men, women and children starve.

"Aside from that, I'm against the whole program."

At the same time Sen. Cordon (R-Ore.), preparing to make a European tour with other Senate appropriations committee members, began assembling detailed pre-war production records of European countries.

Cordon wants to make some independent inquiry about what happened to industries other than

IS CRUSHED AS TRUCK ROLLS OVER

Charles E. Darwin, aged 19, of R. D. 8, South Beaver street extension, was instantly killed Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock when a truck he was driving overturned on the Harlansburg road, about a mile east of the city. The young man suffered a broken neck, injuries of the chest and a fracture of the right leg when he was thrown out and the truck rolled over on him.

Truck Overturns

State police and Deputy Coroner Charles E. Allen investigated the accident.

According to Martin Haltunen of R. D. 3, Slippery Rock, who was following the truck, the driver seemed to have lost control, although not traveling at a high rate of speed. The truck was coming toward New Castle and went off the pavement about a foot on the right side of the road and then swung sharply across the road and overturned.

State Supreme Court Rule Asked On Property Law

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 2.—(INS)—The state supreme court today was asked to rule on the constitutionality of the Pennsylvania new community property law.

A petition filed by Mark Wilcox, Jr., of Philadelphia, asked the court to take original jurisdiction, by-passing the lower courts.

Wilcox asked a mandatory injunction to compel the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company to issue him a paid up policy, and a loan of $500. The company refused, contending that the community property law makes such a loan illegal without his wife's consent.

The dispute between Wilcox and Penn Mutual raises the constitutionality of the law with respect to income from a testamentary trust.

Truman-Bidault Conferring Today

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(INS)—President Truman will confer today with Foreign Minister Georges Bidault of France.

The French official, who has been attending the United Nations meetings in New York, was to see the president in the company of French Ambassador Henri Bonnet and Acting Secretary of State Robert A. Lovett at 12:15 p. m.

It was assumed that one of the subjects of the conversation would be France's need for food and fuel from this country and the president's program of conservation to make that aid possible this winter.

Detailed Food Saving Plan To Be Given Nation

President And Other Leaders
To Make Appeal For Program Sunday Night

SPECIAL MENUS TO BE SUGGESTED

By WILLIAM UGSTEAD
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—The Citizens' Emergency Food Committee has rejected a proposal for "meatless" and "wheatless" days in the U. S. to provide additional relief for hungry people.

Highly-placed sources disclosed today that the 26-man committee of prominent Americans voted down Chairman Charles Luckman's suggestion with the contention that "special" days would be of "doubtful" value.

It was learned also that Secretary of Agriculture Anderson agreed with Luckman that some definite recommendations on food conservation and a detailed program should be laid down for the American people.

Although the committee turned down his proposal, Luckman made it clear at a news conference that the group has not fully discarded the idea of "meatless" and "wheatless" days.

General Plea

Because of its refusal to call for specific conservation measures, the committee confined its initial efforts to a general plea for the nation to eat less wheat products, meat, poultry and eggs in order "to reduce our consumption of grains."

The nation-wide food conservation campaign formally gets underway Sunday night when President

Mercury Climbs When Fog Lifts

(By International News Service)

Fog blanketed western Pennsylvania early today slowing down traffic and causing several accidents as the mercury began climbing from an average 32-degree overnight low.

The temperature was expected to climb to a 65-degree high during the day and drop to about a 40-degree low tonight. The freezing overnight temperature in the Pittsburgh area was two degrees below the record low of 34 for the same date reached in 1899.

The low downtown was 38 degrees.

Teamsters May Leave A. F. Of L.

Await Answer As To Attitude Of Federation On Affidavit Signing

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 2.—(INS)—The 900,000 members of the Brotherhood of Teamsters were looking toward San Francisco today for an answer to the question whether the powerful union will withdraw from the American Federation of Labor.

Daniel J. Tobin, Teamsters president, made threat unless John L. Lewis, United Miners' president, signs the non-Communist affidavit required under the Taft-Hartley law.

Tobin was in San Francisco for the AFL convention and was reported ready to lead the fight to force Lewis to abide by a ruling of Robert N. Denham, general counsel for the National Labor Relations Board.

Denham had ruled that all members of the AFL executive council must sign the non-Communist affidavits to make the labor organization eligible for using the machinery of the NLRB.

Lewis Vetoes Action

At the council session in Chicago, however, Lewis vetoed the action which would throw the NLRB open to 7,500,000 AFL members in 43,000 local unions.

The teamsters were particularly interested in the move to force Lewis to sign the affidavits because they have a number of cases scheduled for NLRB action. Many cases already have been returned by the NLRB because of the failure to sign the affidavits.

Tobin, the 72-year-old labor leader, made his threat of withdrawal from the AFL in the union's magazine, The Teamster, in Indianapolis last week.

He said that all officials of the union have signed the affidavits but the teamsters still were barred from NLRB service because of the AFL council action. He commented:

"Apparently there is no answer except that we withdraw from the American Federation of Labor."

Truman, Secretary of State Marshall and Luskman will make a radio appeal to the country.

The 30-minute broadcast will be carried by all major networks starting at 10:30 p. m., EST, Sunday.

Luskman emphasized that his group would use "every channel of communication" to present its plans and objectives to the American people and point out the need for immediate "stop-gap" aid to Europe.

In addition to the proposed "meatless" and "wheatless" days, the food committee is considering the possibility of reducing the size of bread loaves and of urging the distilling industry to cut down on its grain consumption.

Drawing Up Menus

The committee also is drawing up specific menus which restaurants will be asked to follow in order to reduce the consumption of certain foods such as meat and bread.

Anderson said the marketing of hogs and cattle at lighter weights this fall might contribute to a meat shortage next spring and possibly to higher meat prices in 1948. But, he said:

"This is an emergency action. You have to take your choice if we are going to have enough cereals to export now."

The agriculture secretary pointed out that the government could go into the grain market with an "aggressive" buying program and purchase the additional 100 million bushels needed, but that such action was out of the question because of its certain effect to drive up grain prices.

Anderson said that the extra grain for export "must be saved from our economy, not just pulled out of the economy." He said the government would buy "just enough so prices won't stay up."

those actually destroyed by the war, and why food production is down. He declared:

"I want to know what is being done on the acres of ground that used to produce wheat. And I want to know why factories in areas that escaped devastation are not running."

Cordon indicated skepticism of whether Marshall Plan aid will help the people, or any governments. He said:

"What a government needs to survive as a government is one thing, and what the people need to survive is another."

"I am more interested in the people."

Cordon was particularly skeptical about the decline in Europe's agriculture.

He declared that since European farms never were mechanized to any great extent, lack of equipment could not account for their failure to produce, especially when manpower is the greatest surplus in Europe.

Likewise, he said, shortage of fertilizer could not account for the whole food deficiency.

FREE ENTERPRISE SYSTEM ON TRIAL SEN. MARTIN WARNS

people have done their part. They have surrendered their priceless privileges.

"But they have not received what they bargained for."

"Under Hitler, under Mussolini, under Stalin—under their predecessors throughout history—the people have wound up without freedom, without initiative—and without the total security which was to have taken the place of the other two."

The senator said that Russia, Britain and the United States are advancing three different economies as the "only" cure for the world's ills.

Made All Poor

"Under a total Communistic economy," Senator Martin said, "the Russian super-men talk of abolishing poverty. But they've made all their countrymen poor . . . the living standard is lower even than under the czar."

"The people of England are in a deplorable condition. Incentive is gone. They turn more and more to the government, and government proves again it is helpless unless the people will work and sustain themselves."

Senator Martin said: "We can only hope that Britain won't eventually surrender to 'bureaucratic central government.'"

Free Enterprise Needed

He declared that the American economy of free enterprise must continue, but warned it could be destroyed by "excessive government interference. Price fixing and other monopolistic tendencies which grow out of fear of competition."

"The greatest argument in favor of our system," Senator Martin said, "is that all the world is looking to the United States for help."

"They need food, clothing and shelter."

"In the postwar period even Russia—whose ever-all natural resources are probably greater than our own, whose population is larger, and which boasts that its system is better—has stood in line before Uncle Sam's paying teller. What more need be said than that?"

with the students in the dining hall and returned to the chapel for another ceremony at 1 p. m. for those who could not attend the morning session.

At that time Miss Irene Curran, field representative of the Red Cross, outlined the plans for work with hospitalized veterans, an activity which will mainly busy the college organization.

William McClelland of New Castle sang several selections, accompanied at the piano by Edwin Good.

Afternoon Tea

At 3:30 p. m. the chapter entertained at tea in Ferguson Hall lounge, at which time special guests were introduced. The canteen of the chapter, assisted by students of the unit, served refreshments, under the direction of Mrs. Russell Allen, chairman.

The new unit is under the advisoryship of Dr. W. H. McKnight, dean of men, and Miss Helen Sitig, dean of women.

GARDEN COUNCIL LUNCHEON PROGRAM

Eight garden clubs of the county were represented at a meeting of the Garden Council of Lawrence County for luncheon Wednesday afternoon at the Manse near New Wilmington. Covers were laid for 35 at a table prettily decorated with flowers from the Manse garden. Luncheon was served at 1 o'clock.

Displays of flower arrangements for judging showed to advantage a variety of fall blooms. On a vote by those present, Mrs. Ralph Z. Galbreath, of the Walmo club, won first honor for her attractive arrangement and others that drew honors for their displays in the poll were Mrs. W. C. Patterson, of the Mahoningtown club, Mrs. Frank Albora, of the East Brook club, with both third and fourth places, and Mrs. J. H. Vogan, of the Harlanburg club.

Marigolds and ageratum predominated among the colorful displays making effective arrangements in tones of gold and blue.

On the program, Mrs. W. H. Humphrey, of the Conservation Garden department, gave a most interesting account of her trip west this summer and spoke particularly of the many beautiful wild flowers she saw and photographed.

Mrs. John Robinson, of the East Brook club, gave a timely seasonal talk interspersed with verses and poems.

Walmo Garden club was in charge of luncheon arrangements and the program of the afternoon.

During business, with Mrs. Edward L. Davenport presiding, the council furthered its plans for a Christmas display to go on exhibit in mid-December in the Trinity Episcopal church guild room.

Next meeting of the council will be Wednesday, November 5, in Trinity church when bulb exchange will be the feature.

LISTEN, PENNSYLVANIANS!

Forty-four of the 48 States are now competing with Pennsylvania for industries. They are financed by public funds in an attempt to attract industry. The States are being helped in this campaign, by private industry, banks, railroads and communities.

Pennsylvania is first in dozens of industries and 60 of the biggest manufacturers have plants in Pennsylvania. Many household names such as Heinz, Talon, Lovell, Westinghouse, Bethlehem, Sun Oil, Hammill Paper, Sylvania, and others. Many "Blue Chip" companies have Pennsylvania plants such as Hershey, Pennsylvania Salt, American Brake Shoe, Piper Aircraft, Struthers-Wells, Atlantic Refining, etc.

J. Kennedy Spafford, Regional Director for the Pennsylvania Department of Commerce has been in northwestern Pennsylvania these past weeks preaching the gospel of "LET'S ALL GROW WITH PENNSYLVANIA." He shows that its position as the leading industrial State and to its population which in itself is a market larger than all New England. He says there are 170,000 farms, 5,000 mines, 17,000 plants and 10,000,000 people in Pennsylvania.

Pennsylvania mines and plants lead the nation in 9 of the 11 products classified as THE RAW MATERIALS OF CIVILIZATION. They are coal, coal tar, pig iron, ferro-alloys-sand, stone, cement, coke and slate. Mr. Spafford warns however that these factors are subject to change, that wars have taken their inevitable toll of natural resources. Nature was generous to Pennsylvania but man has cut, mined and extracted greedily.

It is time therefore that Pennsylvanians take heed and assay their property, the Commonwealth. The Pennsylvania Department of Commerce has designated the week of October 13-19 to be Pennsylvania Week for that purpose.

Citizens might ask themselves, is the State a well which will never run dry? Can we continue to take from it and prosper or should we begin to think about things. It has been and is a bountiful, beautiful land. Its rugged hills, rich mines and good earth has made jobs and fortunes for many. It has been good to us and we should guard its bounty, appreciate its generous gifts and protect its intrinsic worth.

Let everyone, every Pennsylvania, rally to the cry of Pennsylvania Week and resolve to KEEP PENNSYLVANIA GROWING AND ADD TO ITS PAYROLLS BY INDUSTRIAL EXPANSION.

It can be done says Mr. Spafford and cites cases as follows: aggressive local interests in eastern central Pennsylvania brought in to 28 counties in that area, 231 new industries, employing 16,710 people in one year, in 1946. In Canonsburg an idle war plant on their hands, the people went out and brought in 7 companies to lease parts of this plant and created 2,700 jobs... more jobs than the war plant had provided. Ellwood City faced with the loss of its mammoth Tube Plant has already built through public subscription, 5 new factories for 5 new industries. The cost of these buildings will be born by the occupant over a 10 year period of time and Ellwood City will have been repaid its investment. Local groups in Scranton recently carried out a campaign that brought 26 new businesses into Scranton and inspired 13 major expansions, creating 13,245 new jobs. The little town of Mildred with its mines worked out and its lumber gone (in a region where the whole county population is only 7,504, and the county seat has only 206 people) had not a single industry but the local citizens got together and brought in an Endicott-Johnson shoe factory that will employ 250 people immediately and eventually 500. The Lions Club in Tionesta raised $65,000 to build a plant for a pottery company. So it can be done.

New Castle can do it if it wants to. This is the time to make people realize what PENNSYLVANIA HAS—MAKES—DOES—advised Mr. Spafford who has made constructive suggestions to various community organizations.

HOW MANY 'LITTLE NAZIS'?

A German widow who flew to London the other day to marry a Briton took with her her two children, aged 8 and 10. She has now flown back to Germany unwed because her 10-year-old son hated England, refused to eat, wouldn't help his mother, and, in general, made a first-class nuisance of himself.

The boy's prospective stepfather explained his behavior simply. "He is a little Nazi," he said. The question that arises is, of course, how many other German children, born shortly before the war in the heyday of Adolf I, are still imbued with the Nazi philosophy of hatred and destruction?

We hope this "little Nazi" doesn't typify German children of today, more than two years after the end of the Hitler terror. But the doubt remains whether the Allies now in Germany have as yet done enough in the way of education to instill in youngsters the high ideals of human rights which, to us, are fundamentals of democracy.

To build up a Germany in which "little Nazis" can have no place should be a major objective of the occupying forces.

Further U. S. Aid In Greece Needed

ATHENS, Greece, Oct. 2.—The present American program in Greece is no more than a stopgap one. The big question is: What will happen after June 30 of next year, which is the deadline fixed by Congress in appropriating $300,000,000 in aid for Greece.

We have three fairly well-defined choices. They are:

(1) Quit Greece entirely, realizing what a tremendous undertaking and real rehabilitation of the country is bound to be. The result, in all likelihood, would be a full-scale civil war. If the weight of Moscow should be marshalled behind the Greek Communists, then the outcome would be a dictatorship of the left.

(2) Make a commitment for 10 years based on a long-range plan for the gradual restoration of a normal, prosperous country. Naturally, conditions would be attached to such a commitment, the foremost being a reform of the tax system to force the rich to pay taxes. Various studies, such as the one completed a year ago by the food and agriculture organization of the United Nations, show how irrigation, electric power and a tourist industry can be developed.

If such a commitment were made and the program carefully supervised, the sums made available would almost certainly decrease from year to year. Only through such a commitment is it likely that Greeks will begin to invest their money in Greece. Only by substantially raising the level of both industry and agriculture will it be possible to provide a livelihood for 7,500,000 people.

(3) Grudgingly make another appropriation for a second year. This would give Greece another boost, but it, too, would be a stopgap. (Continued on Next Page)

The World and the Mud Puddles

AN ANCIENT TRICK

A stock political trick of the olden days—one effectively utilized by Theodore Roosevelt in his heyday—was trust-busting. Nothing is easier than to stir up the multitudes against somebody supposed to be squeezing too much profit out of the public. Demagoguery depends on envy of the successful, particularly "the rich," for its best effects. The late Huey Long of Louisiana made himself king-pig of his state and national leader of the left-wingers by advocating "redistribution of the wealth"—that is, taking from those who have and giving it to those who have not. The brain-trusters of the New Deal also took great delight in weeping for the poor and exorcising the wealthy.

Another Large Scale Attack
For the first time in many years we are about to witness a large-scale attack against alleged monopolies. Attorney General Clark, urged no doubt by the President, has announced that he will start anti-trust litigation against certain industries; the Federal Fair Trade Commission also has stated that it will start some sweeping inquiries. The steel, tire and film industries will be first under fire. There may be justifications for anti-trust action by the Justice Department; business nowadays doesn't deliberately engage in throat-cutting competition. But there is suspicion in some quarters that the sudden show of activity against alleged monopoly has at least a slight flavor of politics. Prices of most commodities are high. The general public does not concern itself with serious inquiry into the reason. But it is highly susceptible to charges that the people are being gouged by greedy and unscrupulous industrial and business plotters.

Little Result Of Policy
Mr. Truman on two or three occasions has indicated that he expected to obtain price reductions merely by asking for them. He also has voiced again his theory that prices can be lowered and wages raised still more without any decline in fair profits. Needless to say, there has been little result from this executive policy. (Continued on Next Page)

They Say

WASHINGTON—Sen. Buck (R) Del. asking that President Truman call special session of congress: "By the course he is following he is ducking responsibility."

WASHINGTON—Rep. Charles A. Eaton (R) N. J., urging relief for Europe: "The problem... is a human problem and one that rises far above party politics."

NEW YORK—Col. W. H. Noble, president of the U. S. Reserve Officers Association: "It is hard to conceive of any nation attacking us, even if it had the atomic bomb, so long as we have air and naval forces capable of speedy retaliation."

NEW YORK—Ralph Kiner, Pittsburgh Pirates' home run champion: "I still think the Dodgers have a great chance."

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CHURCH VALUABLE TO WHOLESOME LIVING

Yesterday I referred to my boyhood experiences in rural churches.

For several years Mrs. Myers and I—the children grown and gone—have been living in a rural community. In it is a rural church. We were married there 35 years ago and, a bit old-fashioned, we married still. Ours was the first wedding in that church, which was then nearly 70 years old.

In recent years many weddings have been held there. I understand that church weddings in Protestant churches the nation over have increased and, as I pointed out in an earlier column, church weddings are to be encouraged everywhere, since this practice gives a spiritual emphasis to marriage and the family. The Catholic church, I understand, has always emphasized church weddings.

Religious Services

At our particular rural church two Protestant denominations hold religious services alternately and there is a union Sunday school. The funds for both churches are raised and disbursed by a united organization, thus promoting fine relations. Unfortunately, each pastor must serve some other rural churches, too.

There ought to be a community church in most such areas with one resident pastor. Anyway, most of the Protestant churches are so much alike that if their adherents thought in terms of the whole community and its families, it should not be difficult for them to work and worship together.

Over the nation such community churches are increasing in number. In many places the traditional rural church is rapidly declining, even disappearing, alas.

With most church-goers so poorly educated to give to the church, and especially so in rural areas, it is not easy to keep some of these churches going and to attract a well-trained ministry.

The value of a strong church in any community to the children and parents of that community and to its moral and spiritual tone must be apparent. There are ever so many prosperous farm areas where one or more strong churches could easily be supported, if the people there really cared. Some leadership is needed of course.

Spiritual Education
All of us parents who wish our children to have spiritual education, and who believe in the efficacy of organized religion to the end could well afford to ask ourselves if we are doing our honest part in contributing to its financial support and to worship attendance. Are we by example and precept helping our children put reason— (Continued on Next Page)

From Me To You

By MESEFALL

There's no doubt about the cool weather... in case there is... just take a look at the coal pile or stand beside your gas meter and hear it turn over as the mercury travels down. But here in New Castle we're not too bad off... Up Kane way it is really chilly. Mother is there this week and she reported last evening that it was down to 17 above.

Here is something that you might think over as you huddle around the kitchen stove trying to keep toasty (What are we going to do when it really turns cold). A noted psychologist was asked to give his reasons why so many people failed in their efforts to make life successful... here is what the great mind penned.

1. Finding fault with the other fellow but never seeing our own faults.
2. Doing as little as possible, and trying to get as much as possible for it.
3. Spending much time showing up the other fellow's weak points, and too little time correcting our own.
4. Slandering those we do not like.
5. Procrastination... putting off until tomorrow something that we should have done day before yesterday.
6. Deceit... talking friendly to the other fellow's face and stabbing him in the back as soon as he turns around.
7. False belief that we are smart enough to reap a harvest of pay before sowing a crop of honest service.
8. Disloyalty to those who have trusted us.
9. Egotism... the belief that we know it all and no one can tell us anything.
10. Last, but not least, lack of necessary training and education to enable us to stand at the head in our line of work.

That's what the man said... and he says for us all to apply the statements individually and see where we stand.

Hints On Etiquette

When a young man and woman become engaged and the parents of the man do not know the young woman, they should either call on her or write to her as soon as the engagement is announced.

Looking At Life

By Erich Brandeis

Last week we discussed an advertisement that appeared in the Hollywood Citizen-News in which a fellow was looking for the ugliest woman he could find.

Today we will deal with another ad, appearing in a recent issue of the Saturday Review of Literature.

Here is the ad:
"Ornery male would like to correspond with female not allergic to ornerness."

I told you that I did not think the Hollywood fellow would receive any answers, and I am informed that I was correct in my prediction.

I now predict that the advertiser in the Review of Literature will be swamped with replies.

Any married woman will know that, unless she is completely non-allergic to ornerness, she will never be able to put up with her husband.

Any single girl who hopes ever to find a husband may as well give up the idea if she has any objection to ornerness in her man.

Right here and now I want to enlighten all unmarried women.

Don't be fooled by your boyfriend's sweetness.

Don't you write me and tell me that your fellow isn't the least bit ornery, that he is courteous, kind, considerate and a veritable specimen of male perfection.

Have you ever spent any time with that paragon of yours before breakfast?

Have you ever asked him to do anything before he had his cup of coffee?

The male animal is a chameleon. He changes his colors immediately after marriage.

Before the wedding he may be a knight in shining armor.

After the knot is tied—why spoil your lovely dreams, why tell you the horrible truth?

Only last night after a good dinner my wife told me that I am really an unusually good husband.

This morning, before breakfast, she told me that I am an impossible old grump and ought to be ashamed of myself to be so impolite.

But, somehow, that first cup of coffee in the morning seems to be a marvelous tonic for that ornerness that is inherent in every man. However, there are other types of ornerness that are not so easily cured.

Let the husband come home from work tired and let his wife tell him that the Smiths are coming over for bridge.

Or let her notify him that she needs more house money because the price of meat has gone up again. Then watch the beast.

No woman can be happy and allergic to ornerness at the same time. (Copyright, 1947, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

DIVORCEE'S NAME

"Should a divorcee resume her maiden name or retain her ex-spouse's name? Is she 'Mrs. John' as usual or 'Mrs. Helen'? If she remarries, do her children take their stepfather's name or keep that of their own father?"

Answer: A divorcee may ask the court's permission to resume her maiden name and if the court consents, she is of course legally permitted to do so.

A divorcee with children should retain her husband's name; otherwise, a complication might arise. Some women are so bitter toward their ex-spouses that they want the world to know of their permanent separation.

This is always indicated by combining the divorcee's maiden surname with that of her ex-husband thus: If her name before marriage was Mary Smith and she married John Jones, her form of address would be "Mrs. Smith Jones". Her signature would still be "Mary Jones". But if and when she remarries, she, of course, drops entirely her first husband's name. Her children should retain their father's name, unless by adoption or paternal preference, they insist on taking the name of their stepfather.

Question: I am giving my first dinner party, which will be formal. Please tell me how to seat my guests.

Answer: The host and hostess sit at opposite ends of the table. The woman guest-of-honor sits at the right of the host, and the next of importance at his left. The man guest-of-honor sits at the hostess' right and the second of importance at her left. The other guests can be seated according to their congeniality, no two men nor two women nor married couples being placed together if this can possibly be avoided, the exception being a bride and groom who are usually placed side by side.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly mail personal replies to questions from readers including stamped, self-addressed envelopes.

Lands 'Babe' Zaharias

By PAUL GALLICO

Due to press of business this department has been a little late welcoming a wonderful little woman back into the news, but wishes now to throw its dice into the air and emit a whoop for Babe Zaharias upon the occasion of her turning professional and separating the movie people from $300,000 in return for making a series of golf shorts.

Since I was not operating this pitch at the time the Babe whopped Britain's best and won the British Women's Amateur Golf Championship I was not able to express my delight publicly in this feat, something no other American lady golfer has been able to accomplish.

Goes Back Fifteen Years

My acquaintance with and affection for La Zaharias goes back fifteen years to 1932 and the Olympic Games in Los Angeles when at the age of seventeen, a tough, wistful, lonely, grave little brown-haired hoyden from Texas she was already a legend as a person and on the way to establishing herself as the greatest girl athlete of our time. Then she was known as Mildred (Babe) Didrikson.

I know a host of stories about the wonderful Babe, and some of them catch you at the throat, because for all her hard-bolled pose of the tough competitor who could walk across the lobby of the Wardman Park Hotel in L. A., the night before an event, look her chief rival in the next day's event squarely in the eye and announce coldly, "Ahm gonna whop you tomorrow, and whop you good!" she was full of shyly hidden sweetness and had a woman's heart.

Was Put On Defensive

She was aggressive because she was put on the defensive by her fantastic skills and boy's body which enabled her to play games practically on a par with men. She took a lot of kidding about her musculinity and never cracked back. When she came up to the Olympics, she hardly knew how to be a girl because she had been raised as a tough boy. But she had tact, patience, forbearance and the strength to conceal the yearnings in her heart so that one could only guess. In those days I was a sports writer and doing pieces about her. Her pseudotoughness fascinated me, and I dared to guess that it was all put on, this contempt for soft women she called "Sissies".

Change Seen In Five Years

I did not see her for five years after the Olympics. Then one day I met her at a golf championship. Her hair was waved; there was a touch of color on her lips and carmine on her finger nails. We grinned at one another. She said shyly, "Hey, Paul, looka!" and raised her skirt an inch. The nether garment was edged with lace. She opened her purse and inside was all of the paraphernalia without which the true woman will not venture forth—lipstick, powder, eyebrow pencil. The Babe was no more. Mildred had taken over.

Later she met and married a wrestler and a good guy, George Zaharias, and devoted herself to golf at which she very quickly became a champion and quite evidently the greatest woman golfer we have ever developed in the United States. But in her younger days there was nothing she couldn't do, including play football, baseball and box, though she did not indulge in the last except for fun. But she was a natural hitter with perfect timing.

Knockout Punch Is Applied

One day as a kind of newspaper stunt she put on the gloves with the late Young Stribling who patronizingly clowning with her and finally urged, "Come on, Babe, let one go." So the Babe wised feud with women and not with men. Those days and who hadn't wanted to hurt her. Mr. Stribling, it is recorded, sat down hard and when restoratives were applied, went away talking to himself about the female of the species.

My goodness how those fifteen years have flown by from the time of those screwy days of wonderful nonsense. Good luck and all success to you, Babe, in your new field, from your admiring and devoted friend.

In View Of The News

By J. C. Ostreicher, INS Foreign Director

Reorganization of Britain's cabinet in an effort to overcome a throttling economic crisis raised a major question on the rights or wrongs of English political tradition.

Prime Minister Attlee bowed at last to a torrent of criticism and named Sir Stafford Cripps as a virtual economic dictator to lead a negotiable path out of his country's difficulties.

Promises Further Shifts

He promised further government shifts. But he has taken no steps toward anything remotely resembling a coalition regime despite insistent demands in many quarters that he do so.

A situation prevails in Britain today that has no parallel in history.

The general election which unseated Winston Churchill was an acknowledged landslide in every meaning of the word.

It changed the whole complexion of parliament and of national existence. The Socialist-Labor government that went in had such a vast majority of votes that its membership in the House of Commons outnumbered the opposition two to one.

Unprecedented Factors

Thus a number of unprecedented factors have arisen.

Coalitions in England during crisis times. But crisis times in the past have never found such an overwhelming majority in control.

The first British labor government headed by the late James Ramsay MacDonald reached for advice and active cooperation from conservatives and liberals when Britain went off the gold standard and the empire's financial structure ran into difficulties.

Churchill promptly established a coalition when the war demanded the utmost in national collaboration.

But neither MacDonald's labor bloc nor Churchill's Conservative party enjoyed anything like the present Socialist majority in the house. Therefore they followed tradition in turning to the opposition for assistance.

Refuse To Admit Crisis

There are many political critics in Britain who insist that for the purpose of retaining its present enormous power, the Labor party and government are refusing to admit that a crisis almost as great as war itself now exists.

These critics maintain that the Socialists must surrender part of their strength in behalf of the entire nation and bring into their government the finest minds of all the other parties.

It is clear that Attlee is convinced he has found the road to victory. There probably are many voters, however, who wonder whether an all-party cabinet might not come up with some workable ideas that do not impose the maximum of hardships. Men like Churchill and former Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden still are very much alive.

HAND TO MOUTH

Sometimes we hear a person say that things are just "hand to mouth". He means that he is not in very good shape financially. If his hand gets something to put in his mouth, he is lucky.

A good many diseases are passed from hand to mouth. The hands come in contact with germs or worms or poisons and carry them to the mouth. Then the person gets sick and blames it on the weather.

A man goes to a lodge convention. He sleeps in a Pullman. He comes home with a cold. He blames it on the draughty berth. He forgets about shaking hands with a lot of other dignitaries who had colds too.

Retirement Plan Seen Probability

Believe Commissioners Will Install It Within The Next
Ninety Days

OTHER HAPPENINGS IN COURT HOUSE

From developments of the past week it seems probable, almost a certainty that the country commissioners will install a retirement plan for county employees, elected or appointed.

City Treasurer Frank W. Hill has returned from Harrisburg with the detail necessary to set the plan up, the county has $20,000 earmarked to start the plan and a resolution has been drafted ready for passage.

City Council James Gibson and Assistant City Solicitor Robert Jameson accompanied Mr. Hill to Harrisburg and they too have the details of the plan. It is believed the city will install a retirement plan at the same time the county does.

The present retirement plan act is the Act of 1943 as amended in 1945 and 1947. Under its provisions all employees of a municipality can enter the retirement plan upon resolution of the governing body.

The plan is under state supervision and is known as the Municipal Employees Retirement Fund to distinguish it from the State Retirement Fund.

The contribution of an employee will vary between 3½ per cent and seven per cent, depending upon age. Oddly enough the percentage of a female employee will be one half per cent higher than that of a male employee.

It is estimated that the county's contribution will be about $12,000 per year.

The retirement of an employee is fixed as follows. The average salary for the past five years is divided by sixty-five. This figure is multiplied by the number of years service and this gives you the monthly pension. In no event can it be more than one half the salary of the past five years, but the total salary to be computed is $4,000.

The retirement age is 65 years or after 25 years service. An employee can retire on disability if he has worked for the municipality five years or more.

The retirement must be involuntary, that is, an employee must either be fired or be defeated for re-election in order to take advantage of the retirement prior to age 65 or disability. An elected official can take advantage of the retirement plan if he has served ten years or more and is defeated for re-election.

For example, an elected official who has served in his office for thirty years and whose average salary over the past five years has been $4,000 would receive upon retirement about $1,846.20 per year.

All municipal service will be included in the years of service for computation of retirement, except an official whose compensation is on a fee basis. This would exclude about half the income of the register and recorder, would exclude a portion of the county treasurer's compensation, although in this county his salary of $4,000 is the maximum allowed for computation. The coroner would be entirely excluded from the provisions of the act.

An example of accumulated service would be this. A man is elected as a borough burgess and serves six years. Then he is elected a county commissioner and serves eight years. Then he moves into the city and is elected to a city office and serves ten years. His total time for computation of retirement would be 24 years.

There is every reason to believe that the county commissioners will install the plan before January 1, 1948.

SENTENCES PASSED

Three men appeared before Judge W. Walter Braham Wednesday morning and were sentenced for crimes to which they pleaded guilty.

James Lane was sentenced on two morals charges to pay a fine of $100 and costs and undergo imprisonment in the Lawrence county jail for six months. Lee Lane was fined $80 and costs or 45 days in the county jail. Sam Donofrio was fined $1 and costs and got 11 to 22 months in the Allegheny county workhouse. On an attempt to commit burglary offense he was given the same sentence to run concurrently.

Blame Fire Bug For Two Fires

CONSHOHOCKEN, Pa., Oct. 2. —(INS)—Fire raged through the Tri-Metal Products Co., in nearby Seven Stars today, only six hours after another blaze razed the flight office and observation tower of Patco Flying Field, a half-mile away.

Constable T. Mason Osborne said he believed the blazes were the work of a fire bug.

Fred Salter, president of the metal company, estimated damage at $30,000. The flames wrecked the pattern department, store room and many castings.

All aircraft in hangars at the flying field was wheeled to safety, but the pilots' logs and office equipment were destroyed.

WASHINGTON CALLING

would not end the unrest and uncertainty that today make any real rehabilitation all but impossible.

Probability Is For Last
The probability is for the last choice, which is at best a weak compromise between the other two. A second year of aid might end, temporarily at least, the Communist threat.

A great deal depends on the course that Russia follows. The evidence accumulates from day to day that the masters of the Kremlin may have decided the time is not ripe to force the issue. Not only in Greece but elsewhere the signs point to a decision to use legal tactics and to attempt to get back into government's from which Communists have been excluded.

The Soviets believe that we will grow weary of our expensive adventure in the Near East. They have demonstrated before that they can wait, and they will wait again.

In spite of the delays and the uncertainties in the American aid program, the position of the United States is strong in Greece today, according to observers with a long background of experience here. The incessant Communist propaganda about imperialism and dollar diplomacy has hardly scratched the surface.

Forces out of the past work strongly in our favor. One such force was the mass immigration of Greeks to America at the end of the last century and in the first years of this one. Many immigrants prospered. Before 1940 they sent back large remittances to families here at home. This was so substantial as to be a factor in keeping the Greek economy on a narrow balance.

Often they came back to confer benefactions on their countrymen and spread the golden legend of America's wealth. Such legends take a deep hold on the imagination.

Another force out of the past is the work of American educators and health specialists who have spent years and millions of dollars in voluntary efforts to raise standards here and throughout the Near East. Through Athens College, which he founded in 1925, Homer Davis has exerted a profound influence in Greece. So has Laird Archer during his many years as head of the Near East Foundation.

One of the unhappy consequences of the Greek-aid program was to make Americans think there was no longer any need for such voluntary undertakings. If, after what they have done, these institutions should be allowed to die, it would be a tragedy in more ways than one. They symbolize the vast reservoir of American good will in which the world has come to believe. And, equally important, every possible effort, voluntary and public, must be made in order to save a great and tragic people from decimation and destruction and the slow death of political dictatorship.

able emphasis on spiritual values? When we really consider what we and our children give to the church and the like, in comparison with what we lavish on perishable luxuries, we really feel ashamed. Now, don't we?

Look at the miserable salary we pay the preacher. How so many of them, especially in the rural areas, keep themselves and their families alive is hard to understand. What is still harder to understand is how so many of them put one or several children through college. One reason is that these parents, particularly the mothers, keep their eyes and hearts so firmly fixed on lasting values.

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUDDLES

Instead of recognizing the real major factors in higher prices, the President, through the Attorney General, raises the old time slogan of "monopoly", always a popular cry when a national campaign impedes.

Anti-monopoly suits as a rule are extremely long-drawn affairs. If the present litigation follows the usual pattern, it may be two to four years before the final results are known. In the meantime, the factors which make for high prices continue—super-abundance of money in circulation, tremendous national debt, colossal Federal expenditures, high wages, inadequate production and the exportation of foodstuffs and other commodities for relief.

If corporations are guilty of conspiring to hold up prices and limit production, nobody will question that they ought to be properly punished. But a program which depends primarily on litigation, instead of dealing with economic fundamentals, may turn out to be little more than a political gesture.

MURDOCK-DAVIS WEDDING AT HOME

Before an improvised altar of flowers, palms, and ferns lighted by candles in the bride's home, Miss Flora Belle Murdock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Murdock, of Enon Valley, R. D. 1, became the bride of Fred A. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Davis, of Darlington, R. D. 2, at a double ring ceremony performed at 7:30 o'clock in the evening by Rev. Robert Dyke, pastor of the Christian church, Darlington.

The bride wore a white satin wedding gown trimmed with lace ruffles around the low neckline, long sleeves, and a full skirt, en train, flaring out from the slim shirred bodice. Her fingertip circular veil edged with satin and lace, fell from a high crown head-dress trimmed with seed pearls and her only jewelry was a gold locket, a gift of the groom. She carried an arm bouquet of gardenias and mums.

Mrs. Shirley Dexter as her sister's matron of honor wore a yellow taffeta gown and carried a bouquet of yellow and white mums and wore a headband of the same flowers. Morose Student Takes Own Life

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 2.—(INS)—An 18-year-old high school student chose death rather than go through life "without the only person I will ever care for."

Gennaro DiGorgi, who had been reprimanded several times for "staying out late," returned from school yesterday and told his mother "I'm going to commit suicide," police said.

The youth locked himself in a bathroom and fired a bullet into his head.

Police said a note was found in DiGorgi's bill fold. It read:

"Since I cannot lead my own life and have the only person I will ever care for, I choose this destiny."

Neither his mother, Mrs. Adeline DiGorgi, nor his father, Joseph, were able to give an explanation for the note or action. They said he had been scolded several times for "staying out late."

Texas Pulpwood Heaviest Loss In Timber Fires

CONROE, Tex., Oct. 2.—(INS)—Forest service authorities said today that the chief damage from a series of timberland fires in southeast Texas, believed to be of incendiary origin, was caused to pulpwood used for newsprint.

More than 40,000 acres of timberland were laid waste by the fires which have been raging for more than a week.

Don Young, forest management chief for the forest service, said it was impossible to estimate the damage but that most of the burned timber consisted of pulpwood.

Spinning is one of the oldest of metal making processes.

Sanity Test To Be Given Youth

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 2.—(INS)—Raymond Herron, 21-year-old confessed sex slayer, will be given a psychiatry test before he goes on trial Oct. 14 for the murder of nine-year-old Raymond Howe, Jr., last year.

Judge John P. Ega approved a defense petition permitting Herron to be examined as to his sanity.

The Howe youth's body was found in a wooded section a month after he disappeared while on the way home from a swimming pool.

Herron was arrested early this year and admitted the slaying, police said.

Truman, Duff Hail Newspaper Role In State

In Messages To PNPA President, Governor Laud "Newspaper Week"

HARRISBURG, Oct. 2.—(INS)—President Truman and state officials headed by Gov. James H. Duff paid tribute Wednesday to the press in Pennsylvania observing "national newspaper week" October 1-8.

In a message to the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association, Truman described the American press as the "best and freest in the world" and urged newspapers to keep striving for improvement.

"As in all other fields of human endeavor, there is always room for improvement," the president stated. "Consequently, it is fitting that there should be a national newspaper week when the newspapers of the United States may take stock of their services to their readers."

Truman approved the PNPA's slogan "Your Newspaper Serves Freedom by Serving You."

"There can be no greater contribution to the welfare of our nation and the world than service in the cause of freedom," he pointed out. "We are too much inclined to take our freedom as a matter of course."

"We need to defend it always, and we need now to do all that we can to extend the blessings of freedom throughout the world. The newspapers have played a splendid part in this great cause, and I know they can be counted upon in the future."

Gov. James H. Duff called on Pennsylvanians to reflect on "the continuing contribution which their local daily and weekly newspapers make in shaping their personal lives, the development of their home community and their state."

From Benjamin Franklin's time to the present, he said, newspapers have formed "an important segment" of the commonwealth's assets.

U. S. Sen. Francis J. Myers, Pennsylvania's senior senator, applauded key-state papers for reflecting "a real sense of responsibility under the sacred trust they enjoy" while U. S. Sen. Edward Martin warned that freedom depended upon a free press.

Superintendent of Public Instruction Francis B. Haas said publishers should be challenged during the observance to a "re-evaluation of current issues of vital interest to our citizens."

"In the American system of representative government, it seems obvious that insofar as our daily and weekly newspapers serve to determine the individual convictions of our electorate, to that extent will they be responsible for the destiny of our nation."

National newspaper week, originated by the PNPA in 1932, will be observed in more than 250 communities in the state.

The purpose of the observance was to encourage newspapers to review services rendered to their communities, state, nation and "the world in general," the PNPA reported.

Programs will include discussions on newspapers by service clubs, visits to plants by school children and other groups, addresses by publishers and services to honor carriers, according to the PNPA. October 4 has been designated as "newspaper boy day."

CONTROL WATER SNAKES IN FARM FISH PONDS

Before farm ponds are stocked with fish they should be rid of water snakes, since the common northern hatched water snake is unquestionably destructive to fish life.

These predators can be destroyed by shooting or in other ways. If the pond received its water supply by diversion from a nearby stream, constant vigilance will be necessary to prevent reinfestation.

The snakes are fond of bluegill sunfish, large mouth black bass and other species of fish which are favorites for farm ponds.

PENALTY ON SCHOOL TAX

For those who failed to pay their 1947 school taxes yesterday they now are required to pay a penalty of five per cent, according to Tax Collector Bernard N. Hanlon. There is also a penalty of five per cent on unpaid 1947 city taxes.

'Open House' Is Planned By State Police Barracks

HARRISBURG, Oct. 2.—The Pennsylvania state police will participate in the observance of Pennsylvania Week by holding "open house" at the various barracks and substations throughout the state in order that the people of Pennsylvania may become better acquainted with their state policemen and the work they perform.

Colonel C. M. Wilhelm, state police commissioner, stated that the public is invited to visit any barracks or substation during the hours of 1 to 9 p. m. October 13 to 19. He added that a state policeman will be on duty to explain the organization and operation of the force, including the teletype, which links together 118 police stations in Pennsylvania and provides communication with police of 12 states and the District of Columbia, and the new three-way state police radio system consisting of 73 land stations and 250 radio-equipped cars.

House Speaker Martin Commends G.O.P. Congress

TOPEKA, Kans., Oct. 2.—(INS)—Kansas Republican leaders were cheered Wednesday by House Speaker Joe Martin's tribute to the GOP-controlled congress as the savior of American solvency.

Martin, addressing the Shawnee county Republican committee last night in Topeka, said the 80th congress was one which "performed the remarkable achievement of stopping the steady march of America towards bankruptcy".

The Republican leader also declared the present congress prevented "some form of centralized government, probably state Socialism". He added:

"We have sharply cut government spending and have reduced government payrolls. We would have given American taxpayers substantial reductions except that President Truman twice vetoed tax reduction bills."

Freedom Train May Be Housed In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2.—(INS)—Philadelphia, birthplace of American liberty, may become permanent home for the Freedom train now touring the nation.

A movement, unofficial as yet, has started to bring the train and its priceless store of famous American documents to the Quaker City. Elmer B. Snyder, of Bucks county, spurred the movement when he wrote the Philadelphia Inquirer that "this beautiful train and its sacred documents should find an everlasting peace" near Independence Hall.

Immediate support for the suggestion has come from Philadelphia city officials and civic leaders and Mayor Bernard Samuel is expected to announce formation of a citizens' committee to start the ball rolling soon.

Butler Company Leads Recruiting

HARRISBURG, Oct. 2.—(INS)—The state military affairs department reported today that company "D" of the 112th infantry regiment at Butler led all other Pennsylvania National Guard units in the nationwide recruiting campaign.

PNG officials said one member, S-Sgt. Samuel R. Cherry, had enrolled 34 new recruits since the drive began September 16.

Pittsburgh's 107th field artillery battalion placed second in the campaign with 26 enlistments.

Guard officials said 180 new recruits have been signed up throughout the state since the drive began.

Some authorities say that suicide is more prevalent among educated than illiterate groups.

PARIS, Oct. 2.—(INS)—The National Congress of the French Socialist party will meet in extraordinary session Nov. 22 in a move aimed directly at Premier Paul Ramadier.

The Socialist premier's program for combatting the nation's economic crisis has earned him the hostility of his party's left-wing majority which accuses him of deserting Socialist tenets.

The extraordinary session was announced in a communique issued by the Socialist executive committee.

Although Ramadier is not mentioned by name, the agenda reflects the influence of Secretary-General Guy Mollet who is the party's leading critic of the Ramadier program.

Youth Confesses Fatal Attack On Minister's Wife

Fifteen-Year-Old Chicago Boy Admits Crime, Police Report; Attacked Another Woman

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—(INS)—A 15-year-old youth was held today after police said he had confessed stabbing a minister's wife to death and criminally assaulting another housewife.

The youth, James Hartmann, was arrested on the accurate description given police by Mrs. Mary Clausen, 25, the attack victim.

Police Capt. Patrick Collins declared Hartmann confessed the murder of Mrs. Cracelyn Bush, 32, who was stabbed in the heart in a parking lot on the South Side Sept. 24 after he was picked up for questioning in the Clausen case.

Collins said police found a knife with a five-inch snap blade in the home of a friend of Hartmann. He asserted that the youth admitted the knife was his.

Mrs. Clausen was asleep Tuesday night with her two small children in their basement apartment when the assailant entered.

She declared that he threatened her with a long-handled knife, dragged her into a bathroom and assaulted her.

Collins said that Hartmann recently was placed on probation after spending five weeks in a parental school for committing three burglaries which he confessed.

More Estonian Refugees Land At Miami, Fla.

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 2.—(INS)—Eight Estonian refugees who landed in Miami after a 5,000-mile voyage from Sweden in a 40-foot yawl, face immigration authorities today regarding their entry into the United States.

The refugees, headed by Capt. Kalme Veski, included three men, three women and two babies. They said they were fleeing from Russian domination and wanted to start life anew in the United States.

Francis Dever, Miami immigration chief, said they probably would be denied entry into the United States at today's hearing before immigration officers.

Placed In Border Patrol
 The refugees carried no visas and were placed in a border patrol station pending the hearing.

Capt. Veski said the party left Goteborg, Sweden, July 22. His wife, Hilda, said they were polical refugees. The Veskis brought with them their two baby sons, Vello, 18 months old, and Hillard, three months old.

Two other couples in the group are Heinrich and Elfried Redik and Elmar and Avelina Kalme.

Permanent residence was granted to 48 other Baltic refugees who landed more than a year ago, but 24 who arrived at Savannah, Ga., last Sept. 17 were being detained at Ellis Island, N. Y., pending appeals on excursion rulings.

She was walking across North Jefferson street when the truck turned left from West North street into North Jefferson street.

Fifty Policemen In Vienna Held For 1943 Purge

VIENNA, Oct. 2.—(INS)—Fifty Vienna policemen—including 30 on active duty—were arrested today on charges of participating in the Nazi purge of Jews in Poland in 1943.

Former SS General Ohlendorf, now a defendant in the Nuremberg atrocity trials, was in charge of the Polish "liquidations".

Meanwhile, Johann Rixinger, formerly criminal inspector of the Gestapo in Vienna, pleaded not guilty to charges of sending Austrian Jews to concentration camps and stealing their property.

Rixinger, who claimed membership in the Nazi party as far back as 1933, joined the SS following the "anschluss".

BACKACHE,
LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN
Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 16 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent urination, usually with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 60 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 16 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Farmers Still
Putting In Long
Hours In State

HARRISBURG, Oct. 2.—While Pennsylvania farm operators are working the same number of hours per day this year as they did last year at the same time, the hours of work for hired hands has been reduced slightly, the State Department of Agriculture reports from recent federal-state surveys.

Farm operators on September 1 were putting in an average of 12.4 hours per day, the same as a year previous, but three-tenths of an hour less than on the same date in 1945. Hired hands this September 1 were averaging 9.8 hours per day compared with 10.2 hours a year earlier.

The century's most spectacular meteor shower occurred Oct. 9, 1946, when the earth plowed through debris left by the Giacobini-Zinner comet. On the U. S. west coast 4,000 "shooting stars" were counted during one hour. In the eastern part of the country clouds veiled the spectacle, which, however, was recorded by radar.

Taft Opposes Training Plan

Senator Against Program For Universal Military Training In U. S.

By WILLIAM THEIS (U. S. Staff Correspondent)
CASPERS, Wyo., Oct. 2.—(INS)—Sen. Robert A. Taft (R) chose Wyoming today as the platform from which to attack the Truman administration for its "errors" and to counter Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's endorsement of universal military training.

The undecleared presidential aspirant prefaced the final speech of his six-state barnstorming tour with a statement charging that universal military training would "encourage war" and prove an "obstacle to peace."

His stand was contrary to that taken by Dewey, the party's 1944 presidential nominee and poll-leading prospect for 1948. The New York governor endorsed UMIT a few weeks before Taft began his western trip.

Taft traveled to Casper from Cheyenne, where last night he defended the GOP record in Congress and appealed for support of the Republican party in next year's presidential election.

His Casper speech tonight was billed in advance as a free-swinging criticism of President Truman's policies on both the domestic and foreign fronts. Associates intimated it would be the most strongly worded indictment Taft has yet leveled against the Democratic regime in Washington.

PLAN DEBATE PROGRAM

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 2.—Discussion of plans for a statewide college debate tournament will be a main item on the agenda when members of the Pennsylvania Debating Association meet in Harrisburg late this week. Melvin P. Moorhouse, speech department instructor and debate team manager at Westminster college, is chairman of a special committee to consider the question. A debate tournament would use "Federated World Government," the national debate topic which was announced last week by the National Debate Council.

Cordell Hull Is 76 Years Old Today

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(INS)—Cordell Hull, former secretary of state, who today celebrates his 76th birthday, was described as "feeling and looking better than he has in a long time."

Friends who visited the elder statesman at Bethesda (Md.) naval hospital where he has been under medical care since suffering a collapse a year ago, reported Hull in excellent spirits and keenly interested in current events.

The ex-cabinet member is at work on final revision of his extensive memoirs, which will be published next spring.

Hull resigned as secretary of state in November, 1944, because of ill health. His only public appearance was as a witness in the Pearl Harbor investigation.

DIES IN DENTIST'S CHAIR

McKEESPORT, Pa., Oct. 2.—(INS)—The Allegheny county coroner's office today said that the elderly woman who collapsed and died in a McKeesport dentist's chair had been identified as Mrs. Martha Weller, 73, mother of a McKeesport fireman.
Dr. E. O. Ginn said he was extracting a wisdom tooth when Mrs. Weller suddenly collapsed and died. Death was believed to have been caused by a heart attack.

Plan To Attend State Convention

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 2.—Donald L. Barbe and Miss Helen Cushman, associate professors of speech, will represent the speech department of Westminster college at the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Speech Association, which will be held in Harrisburg, October 3-4.
Mr. Barbe will address the radio section of the association on the subject "The Radio Workshop"

while Miss Cushman will take part in a panel discussion on topics of curriculum.
Melvin P. Moorhouse, also of the speech department, will be in Harrisburg at the same time for the meeting of the Pennsylvania Debating Society. He is chairman of the committee to arrange for intercollegiate debating in Pennsylvania.

Price Of Milk To Jump To 20½ Cents In County

HARRISBURG, Oct. 2.—(INS)—The state milk control commission today announced retail milk prices in the 12-county Pittsburgh milk marketing area will rise one cent to 20½ cents a quart before October 15.

In a tentative order the commission said the effective date will be decided later today following a hearing at Harrisburg.

Commission officials maintained the boost was necessary to assure the area of an adequate supply. Without the increase, farmers would ship milk out of the marketing area to obtain better prices, they explained.

The commission's order extended the marketing area into six townships of Clarion county. They were Licking, Madison, Perry, Piney, Richland and Toby townships.

Other counties affected by the order were Allegheny, Armstrong, Beaver, Butler, Fayette, Lawrence, Mercer, Venango and Washington, and parts of Crawford and Westmoreland.

Those from New Castle are: Marjorie R. Beck, Mary E. Bratschle, Morfydd Brown, Helen Clarke, Sarah Damaugh, Dorothy Devlin, Eugene Hill, Myra Hoon, Margaret Sargeant, Orlando Lucidore, Bessie White, Ruth P. Wilson, Thad Burkowski, Charlotte Emery and Sara Maxwell.

Others named are: James G. Bennett, Margaret Carr, Marjorie Gilliland, all from New Wilmington and John King, Ellwood City.

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 2.—Those lovebirds, Barbara Hale and Bill Williams, who put marriage and a baby ahead of their careers, have now received their just reward from R.K.O.

The studio has renewed both their contracts and promised them bigger and better things in the future.

The cynics will tell you that a story like this can't happen in Hollywood, but here it is, happy ending and all.

Started Together

Barbara and Bill started their screen careers about the same time five years ago. She'd been discovered in Chicago by a model agency. A scout spotted Bill, an ex-champion swimmer, dancing in a Hollywood night spot.

Eighteen months ago they began planning a definite future. They bought a little home in the San Fernando Valley, where Barbara put up the curtains and Bill planted flowers in the yard. Then in June of 1946 they had as pretty a wedding back in Rockford, Ill., Barbara's home town, as any young couple could desire.

Dated Mr. Stork

Back in Hollywood after a trip around the country, they didn't start thinking the first thing about bigger and better roles, but about how nice it would be if the Williams family were three instead of two.

You're not supposed to think that in Hollywood, at least, not until you're so well established that even the stork can't come whirling along to knock you off the ladder to material success.

The first thing Hollywood knew Barbara had retired to await the birth of her baby. Bill, without assignment for months, waited along with her.

Four other studios wanted to borrow him for roles, but RKO said no. Just sitting around and waiting had both Barbara and Bill worried a little, but they both wanted a baby more than careers.

The little one arrived in July and they named her Barbara Williams. By that time they both had been so long off the screen, Barbara and Bill wondered whether their careers had landed down in the dumps.

But the other day, Dore Schary, the new production boss, sent them word about their contracts. He said, too, that he didn't want them to worry about anything, that the studio had big plans for them. Then, they knew they hadn't been forgotten—even though they had put love and marriage and a family ahead of everything else.

You see, folks, anything can happen in Hollywood, no matter what the cynics say.

Two Hundred Convicts Make Notable Offer

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—(INS)—The man who once won renown as a "fellow who would give a friend the shirt off his back" today was a piker when compared with 200 convicts in the nation's prisons.

The "legion of the condemned" have placed themselves on record as offering a gift even greater than a shirt—and to men they never met.

The 200 convicts have offered sections of their skin from various parts of their bodies for storage in a "skin bank" so that it may be used to save the lives of disaster victims—when it is needed.

Seventy-five of the convicts who made the offer will be accepted soon, according to Dr. Frank J. Chmelik, Joliet, Ill., prison physician and surgeon.

The importance of plastic surgery and the skin needed in the operations are already well understood by the prisoners. Eleven hundred inmates at two Illinois prisons have undergone operations to change their features or improve their health in the past 12 years.

Dr. Chmelik said that another surgeon, Dr. John F. Pick, assistant clinical professor of surgery at the University of Illinois Medical College, straightened noses, corrected malformed ears, chins and eyelids, removed scars and birthmarks, reshaped gnarled hands and made other corrections that aided many convicts to return to a useful place in society.

The skin the prisoners donate will be frozen and kept for emergency use.

Eden Presents New Program

Calls For End To Nationalization Of British Industries

BRIGHTON, Eng., Oct. 2.—(INS)—Former Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden called today for an end to nationalization of British industry.

Speaking at the opening of the annual conference of the National Union of Conservatives and Unionists Associations, Eden charged that Britain's plight is due to the government's "too rigid commitment to doctrinaire policies."

He outlined for the first time a comprehensive seven point Conservative program to overcome the British economic crisis.

It called for:

- 1.—National leadership comparable to Churchill's during the war.
 - 2.—Ending inflation by a balanced budget, a capital expenditure program and tax reduction for the lowest income brackets.
 - 3.—A foreign policy conceived in Empire terms.
 - 4.—Increased production, including stepping up the manufacture of domestic consumer goods.
 - 5.—Greater cooperation with agriculture.
 - 6.—A return to private enterprise and abandonment of industrial nationalization.
 - 7.—Reduced government controls over the individual.
- Eden said that Britain's present problem is to "reconcile freedom with order."
- He denied that Conservatives advocate "laissez faire", and added: "Conservatism's message is this: Freedom within the law for all men."

Policeman's Slayer To Get Life Term

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2.—(INS)—A jury of 11 women and a man returned a verdict of murder in the first degree today in the trial of William K. Hallowell, 23, for the shooting of Patrolman James J. Quigley during a stolen car chase in the Germantown section last April.

The jury reached its verdict after deliberating two and a half hours. It fixed the penalty at life imprisonment.

The youth also was charged with shooting Sergeant Samuel H. Hewitt during the foray, but was being tried specifically on the Quigley indictment.

Assistant District Attorney Raymond Speiser gave no indication of making preparations to try Hallowell on the Hewitt indictment. Hallowell, on the stand at the close of the trial yesterday, flatly denied firing the shot that killed Quigley. He told the jurors that he was firing his revolver aimlessly in an effort to escape capture, and did not intend to shoot either of the officers.

No Disposition Of Clark's Case Yet

State police are still holding and quizzing Robert Clark, Wampum, R. D. 1, parolee from Lewisburg, Pa., federal prison, who allegedly has confessed the theft of autos here and from Ohio.

What disposition will be made of Clark remains unknown at this time.

Whether he will be turned over to the FBI for violation of the Dyer act (transporting an auto across a state line) or first prosecuted here, is a question, state police reported.

PAINTED STOLEN CAR; HELD FOR INQUIRY

Police here today were holding a man who allegedly painted a stolen car from black to grey.

The car which was stolen is owned by Samuel Mooney, Chestnut street.

It was stolen October 1.

The man who painted the car at West Pittsburg, says a young man took the car to him to be painted.

He painted it, then drove it to Moravia street where Patrolmen James and Bush discovered it without license plates.

An inquiry resulted in the painter being detained for questioning at police headquarters.

Arrest Man For Fatal Shooting Last November

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—(INS)—Federal Bureau of Investigation agents have arrested Frank Burns, 64, who was alleged to have shot to death a Toledo, O., night club owner.

Burns was seized by the federal officers as he walked out of a Chicago west side hotel. George R. McSwain, FBI agent in charge at Chicago, said Burns was indicted for the fatal shooting last Nov. 5 of Joseph Urbaytis, co-owner of the Bon Air club, Woodville road, near Toledo.

One of the earliest methods of telling time was that of burning a piece of rope, in which knots had been tied at intervals. When the rope had burned to one knot it was one o'clock, when it reached the second knot it was 2 o'clock, etc.

It Had To Come! Pretzel Industry To Crown Champ

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 2. (INS)—It had to come! Finally, after remaining in the background for years, the pretzel industry has gotten around to choosing "Miss (or Mr., maybe) Pretzel" of 1947.

The world's champion pretzel twister will be selected in a contest at Atlantic City on Oct. 13.

There's no apparent reason for the contest, other than one contained in a statement by Norval Postweiler, president of the National Pretzel Bakers Institute.

Postweiler said:

"Pretzel twisting is an ancient honored art. There are about 800 twisters in the country and the industry can use a great many more."

Incidentally, Postweiler says it's virtually an insult to call a pretzel twister a "bender." Something like calling the Philadelphia Phillies a baseball team, perhaps?

Anyway, a Reading, Pa., girl—Helen Hoffer—claims the unofficial record of twisting 43 pretzels in one minute.

She's entered in the contest and will twist against twisters from all over America, including graduates of a pretzel twisting school in Allentown, Pa.

The tablets 8,000 years old, in which writing was permanently fixed through engraving under great heat, are among the earliest written records still in existence.

Nation Sobering After Terrific War-Time Binge

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 2.—(INS)—The nation is sobering up after a terrific war time binge.

That is what Dr. E. M. Jellinek, director of Yale University's summer school of alcohol studies told the institute of problems of alcoholism in Pittsburgh.

The Yale professor reported drinking during 1947 was on the skids and attributed the declining to the high cost of liquor and that 'people are just fed up with it'.

Jellinek said an increase has been noted in the consumption of beer.

He said liquor drinking hit a new high during 1946 and began decreasing early in the year. The decline has been particularly noted in colleges, the professor said, adding:

"It was feared that war veterans would bring back his overseas drinking habits. But in college it works just opposite."

"A majority of the veterans, I have found, prefer milk alcohol."

The word "orgies" comes from a Greek word meaning "secret rites". The name was given in ancient Greece to the secret rites and ceremonies connected with the worship of various divinities, particularly the wine god Bacchus or Dionysus. From the boisterous songs and dances of this ceremony the word acquired an evil meaning not in its original use.

The Better Revelation

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for October 5 is Hebrews 1:2; 8:6-13; Matthew 23:13-17; John 14:5-11, the Memory Verse being Psalm 122:1. "I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go unto the house of Jehovah.")

Today we start a new series of lessons taken from the letters of early church leaders. The one for today commences with two chapters from the Epistle of Paul to the Hebrews, concerning the revelation of God regarding His Son, Jesus. It begins:

"God, who at sundry times and in divers manners spake in time past unto the fathers by the prophets,

"Hath in these last days spoken unto us by His Son, whom He hath appointed heir to all things, by whom also He made the worlds:

"Who being the brightness of His glory, and the express image of His person, and upholding all things by the word of His power, when He had by Himself purged our sins, sat down on the right hand of the Majesty on high."

All through the Old Testament narratives God spoke through the prophets, who, in turn, translated His words to the Hebrew people. In the New Testament He speaks through Jesus, His Son and representative on earth.

Jesus brought God very near to us. He called Him "Our Father," as well as "My Father," assuring us that we could take our problems directly to Him and He would hear and help us.

God's Words Concerning Jesus

As to the revelation concerning Jesus, Paul tells us: "For unto which of the angels said He at any time, Thou art My Son, this day have I begotten thee? And again, I will be to him a Father, and he shall be to Me a Son?"

"Thou hast loved righteousness, and hated iniquity; therefore God, even Thy God, hath anointed Thee with the oil of gladness above Thy fellows."

These passages we should keep in our hearts. Paul writes: "Therefore we ought to give the more earnest heed to the things which we have heard, lest at any time we should let them slip."

There is no need to comment on this verse. Headless little children who "forget" what Father and Mother tell them, or what their day or Sunday School teachers say, are matched by we older ones who forget too, and must remind ourselves again and again about our moral and spiritual lives.

Now we come to the New Covenant which Paul sets forth in the 8th chapter of his epistle to the Hebrews.

"But now hath He obtained a more excellent ministry, by how much also He is the mediator of a better covenant, which was established upon better promises.

"For if that first covenant had been faultless, then should no place have been sought for the second.

"For finding fault with them, He saith, Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, when I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah.

"Not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers in the day when I took them out of the land of Egypt; because they continued not in My covenant, and I regarded them not, saith the Lord.

"For this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after these days, saith the Lord: I will put My laws into their minds, and write them in their hearts; and I will be to them a God, and they shall be to Me a people."

All Shall Know Him

"And they shall not teach every man his neighbor, saying, Know the Lord: for all shall know Me, from the least to the greatest.

"For I will be merciful to their unrighteousness, and their sins and their iniquities will I remember no more."

The old covenant may be found in the 30th chapter of Jeremiah. The people broke that pact and were punished. Now, through Jesus we have this New Covenant, "the new, the better, the everlasting Covenant."

When Jesus was baptized in the river Jordan, you remember, by John the Baptist, John said, "I have need to be baptized of Thee, and comest Thou to me?" Paul baptized him, and as He came from the water the heavens opened and a voice from heaven said, "This is My Beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased."

Our last reference, John 14:5-11, tells us of Jesus' efforts to explain His coming death and resurrection to His apostles. He had told them that He was going to leave them but would prepare a place for them. "And whither I go ye know, and the way ye know." They did not know. Thomas told Him, and Jesus said, "I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by Me. If ye had known Me, ye should have known My Father also . . . Believeest thou not that I am in the Father and the Father in Me? the words that I speak unto you I speak not of Myself: but the Father that dwelleth in Me, He doeth the works."

YOUTH INJURED PLAYING FOOTBALL

Paul McNahy, aged 12 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McNahy of Oakwood avenue, R. D. 2, suffered a fracture of the collarbone when he was tackled by companions while playing football in the backyard of his home Wednesday evening. He was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital.

DRIVER INJURED

Theodore McKinley, aged 27 years, of 17 Galbreath avenue, was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital at 5:15 p. m. Wednesday for a fracture of the right thumb, sustained when his car was in a collision with another vehicle.

Building Trades Unions To Join Drive On Lewis

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—(INS)—The building trades department of the American Federation of Labor was slated to join today in a growing drive to put John L. Lewis "on the spot" for his refusal to sign a non-Communist affidavit.

Building trade union delegates, assembled in San Francisco for the AFL convention opening on Monday, were due to act on a resolution calling on all members of the federation's executive council to sign disavowals of Communist association.

Such affidavits are required by the Taft-Hartley law in order to render unions eligible to bring their cases before the National Labor Relations board.

Lewis, chief of the powerful miners' union, is the only member of the AFL executive council who has refused outright to sign the non-Communist pledge.

POCKETBOOK STOLEN

Pocketbook containing $14, was stolen from a dining-room table at the residence of Mrs. A. W. Parrish, 223 East Falls street last night. The pocketbook was owned by Mrs. W. B. McKinney of 301 East Long avenue. Police believe someone entered through a rear door and stole it.

Highest Prices Ever Being Paid Farmers In State

HARRISBURG, Oct. 2.—(INS)—Prices received by Pennsylvania farmers have jumped to an all-time high, it was reported today by the State Agriculture Department.

Prices rose 12 points during the month ended September 15 to a record 282, the department said. The point index was based on the 1909-14 average of 100.

The increases mirrored a continued consumer demand for quality foods, particularly meat, the department claimed.

Livestock and livestock products reportedly rose 15 points while crops advanced three points.

Prices for feed grains and hay also hit an all-time high of 228 per cent of the base year.

In the same period, the department said, farmers' expenses advanced two points to the record 237 per cent. Farm wages were the highest known in Pennsylvania, it was reported.

The purchasing power of the Pennsylvania farmers' dollar advanced four points during the month to $1.19.

NOTED EDUCATOR DIES

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Oct. 2.—(INS)—Funeral services were being made for Grant P. Hall, widely known West Virginia educator, business man and Republican political leader, who died yesterday in a Charleston hotel.

Hall, 81, had been in semi-retirement since 1941 when he completed a four-year term as a member of the West Virginia Unemployment Compensation Board of Review.

Making Progress On City Projects, Engineer Reports

Progress is being made on several city projects according to John Z. Street, city engineer, who reported additional sewage facilities are being installed at the disposal plant.

He also reported 2,310 feet of pipe have been laid in the Seventh Ward relief sanitary sewer.

Two hundred and fifty feet of 30 inch, 650 feet of 48 inch, and 1,400 feet of 36 inch pipe has been laid, beginning at the south and coursing north toward Mahoning avenue viaduct.

Resurfacing of Court street has not yet commenced, although preparatory work is under way.

Preparations are under way to set curb in Taylor street which is to be paved between Neal and South Mill streets.

A sanitary sewer has been completed in Vogan street between Jackson and Wilson avenues. Manholes remain yet to be built.

Grading is under way in School street, preparatory to paving. Paving of Howard Way and Robinson street has not yet started.

After the head, feet, bones and inedible entrails of a fowl have been removed, the weight is from 15 to 20 percent less.

Yankee Batting Power Making Shambles Of 1947 World Series

Hatten To Face Newsom Today In Game At Brooklyn

Manager Burt Shotton At Wits End For Pitchers To Silence Yankee Bats

Dixie Walker Tommy Henrich

By DAVIS J. WALSH
(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—It figured to be tougher than a day on the rockpile, but Brooklyn's deflated and ignominious Dodgers—having suffered every other indignity—were fact to face today with the most embarrassing moment of all. They weren't to be allowed to conceal their overnight ignominy. Instead, they had to parade it at Ebbets field, of all places, in the third game of a very astounding world series with the New York Yankees.

Should Be Good
To state the brief and callous facts without benefit of charity, Dodger ineptitude and the Brooklyn premiere of the series were to come home together for the edification of a rabid clientele. From all indications, it ought to be good.

Only a week or so ago, they rode the Dodgers in triumph through the streets to the acclaim of a half million throats, so great was the pride in the so-called "Bums."

It was only toward the close of yesterday's 10-3 harlequinade at the Yankee stadium that they learned they had been right all the time, without knowing it. And, worse still, that the Dodgers were a most paltry and inferior order of bums.

Small Crowd Today
This tardy realization was the thing that gave piquancy and eclat to today's Brooklyn inaugural, which started off behind one encouraging feature. Only a little more than 32,000 of these primitive, uninhibited self-expressionists could get through the Ebbets field gates to see it.

Less stimulating was the report that Burt Shotton, the harried manager, was dallying with the idea of a few line-up changes in the forlorn hope of doing something abrupt and drastic about the Yankee's two-game lead.

All Shotton would vouchsafe in this connection was a laconic "could be," leaving his listeners to guess whether they were talking about the same thing. The interviewers had ex-star Pete Reiser in mind, after some centerfielding yesterday that was so bad the mind tried to reject what the eye saw.

May Use Furillo
In view of this, it was believed that Carl Furillo was due to move back into the Dodger outfield today. What might be done about a Dodger infield which yesterday seemed at the point of going into a combined grovel happened to be something best left to divine intervention.

Meantime, Shotton was turning his attention to something easier, like, for instance, today's pitching, which had been simplified by

A meeting has been called at the Arena tonight for all teams interested in the formation of a strong city-industrial basketball league here this winter. The meeting will start at 7 o'clock.

Beaver Valley Defeats Bears

Score Is 13 To 0, In Night-Game At Monaca High Field, Meet Massillon Next

Scoring in the second and fourth periods, a big powerful Beaver Valley Patsy football team, formerly the Giants, defeated the scrappy Wabash Bears of Mahoningtown, 13 to 0, last night under the lights at Monaca High field before a large crowd.

The first period was fought mostly by the two big lines in the middle of the field. In the second period Prospero heaved a 60-yard pass, that Sciarra caught for a touchdown. The half ended 6 to 0.

Play Massillon Sunday
The Bears threatened in the third period on two occasions but couldn't put over a touchdown. In the fourth period a Bears fumble gave the Valley team the ball on the New Castle 20 and three plays later Prospero again passed to Sciarra and he scored.

Best in the Bears lineup was Mike Roussos, Ernie Adamo, Barber, Tanner and Gilboy on the line, the latter also doing a lot of nice punting. In the Bears backfield Sammy Flora and Ross were the best ground gainers. The first downs were 4 to 3 in favor of the valley team.

Coach Blackie Adamo announced that Sunday the Bears will journey to Massillon for a semi-pro battle with the famous Tigers.

Lallo Sabotin To Train Here

Lallo Sabotin of Warren, lightweight, who boxes Ike Bell of Youngstown in The Arena October 13, will train with Jack Biddle, pro middleweight, at the Jefferson gymnasium Sunday afternoon, according to Matchmaker Tommy Leach.

The Sabotin vs Bell bout should be one of the best ever fought here. However, Pete Misto of Youngstown will also fight Pat McGinley, who participated in the International AAU meet recently held at Pittsburgh. McGinley is also a good welterweight.

Union—Bessemer Game Friday Grabs Grid Spotlight In County

Cementers Hope To Nip Scotties

Ellwood Journeys To Sharon For AA Scrap; Hopewell At Shenango

First inter-county grid collision will unfold Friday night at the Bessemer field when the Cementers tangle with Union high's Scotties.

The Cementers, county class "B" champs in 1946, hope to repel the James-coached lads in their first title defense test. On paper it looks like the Ciccone lads will be the winners. They have humbled George Junior Republic, 18-0 and Lowellville, O., 19-0, while losing to Evans City, 0-7. Union owns but one win in four starts, polishing off Republic, 14-0 while bowing to Grove City, 0-26, Mars, 0-7 and Evan City, 0-12.

Have Better Attack
The Cement City machine has what appears to be the better offense, with such speedsters as Tiratto, Glass and Schaville ready to go, and their line has been denied but once—against the powerful Evans City club.

The Scotties have had trouble manufacturing touchdowns this fall, although they have given all their opponents a rough 60 minutes of football in their frays.

Ellwood At Sharon
Their spirits soaring after their stunning 18-0 chastisement of Farrell last week, the Ellwood high Wolverines will try the same treatment at Sharon in the Mercer county stadium Friday night.

The Tigers are a new opponent for the Croft-tutored boys who will go into the battle with their eyes peeled for No. 78, Sharon's Wally Jones, the air-minded passing threat. Both teams have found the victory trail a wavering one this autumn. Ellwood has been spanked twice and Sharon has broken even, defeating Stove and Erie Strong, while losing to Har-Brack and New Castle.

Hopewell-Shenango
Shenango's "Wildcats", with an even split in their two games thus far, will gun for their second win when they entertain Hopewell at their home field Friday afternoon. New Castle's unbeaten Red Hurricane, with four scalps so far, two of them in Class AA, will make their first out-of-town appearance when they renew their bitter feud with Altoona Saturday afternoon at Mansion Park.

Cubs Give Grimm Five-Year Paper

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—(INS)—Charley Grimm, genial manager of the Chicago Cubs who picked them up in last place early in the 1944 season and pulled them into a National league pennant in 1945, today was set for five more years in Wrigley field.

"Jolly Cholly" signed a five-year contract to continue as manager of the Cubs last night during a conference at the world series in New York.

Lawrence Indies To Meet Tonight

Manager George "Hoss" Zidow of the Lawrence Indies baseball team has called a special meeting of the players under contract for tonight at 7 o'clock at the Town Pump. Important matters will be up for discussion by all concerned. Every player on the team is asked to try and get to the meeting.

These selections are by Walter L. Johns, Central Press.

New Castle Hopes To Break 'Jinx' Held By Altoona

New Castle Has Only Defeated Altoona Once In Five Meetings

Hoping against hope to break the "jinx" that has been following their meetings with the big Altoona High Lions, a determined New Castle High "Red Hurricane" eleven works out each day at the stadium, with but one purpose in mind "Beat Altoona."

Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh will be able to field a strong team

ALTOONA SERIES
1931—New Castle	6	Altoona	13
1932—New Castle	13	Altoona	0
1941—New Castle	7	Altoona	13
1945—New Castle	6	Altoona	13

New Castle won 1, lost 4.

at Altoona Saturday. There were no serious injuries in the Sharon game, and barring injuries today in the final hard drill, New Castle will be at full strength at Mansion Park field.

Last Win In 1932
New Castle's last victory over Altoona was back in 1932, a 13 to 0 triumph, and since relations were resumed in 1944 New Castle has been beaten three straight years.

Altoona will have four men starting who started the 13 to 6 win here last year—Burris, a left guard, O'Donnell a center, Raber, left half and Coder at fullback. In addition Altoona has in the 1947 lineup two boys who were first string subs here last year—Hoover a right tackle and Nabors, right half.

Even In Veterans
New Castle will have the following in the starting lineup that faced the Lions here—Rowland, Cialella, Williams, DiCola, Gribble and Gilmore. New Castle reserves last year who played in the Altoona game and are starters this year are—Charley Wing, Lou Clause, Paul Cuba and McCoy. Thus the veteran material is about even.

New Castle has the most impressive record this year with four straight wins, while the Lions have been defeated once and tied once, but records mean nothing in a game of this nature. New Castle is shooting for its third Class AA win. Altoona its first, having met two non-league teams previously. New Castle High's "Red Hurricane" will leave the city at noon Friday for the scene of the game and will be quartered all night at a small community near Altoona, and will not reach Mansion Park until just before game time Saturday which is 2:30 o'clock.

Billy Meyer Is Slated For Job As Pirates' Boss

Believe Pirate Owners Ready To Hand Job To Kansas City Manager

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—(INS)—William A. (Billy) Meyer, manager of the American Association Champion Kansas City Blues, today was expected to be named manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Meyer, whose appointment appeared to be a foregone conclusion, will succeed Billy Herman, purchased by the Bucs from the Boston Braves at the close of last season. Herman's contract was bought up by the Pirates just before their closing game of the season last Thursday night. President Frank McKinney and General Manager Roy Haney of the Pirates met behind closed doors last night with Meyer and Larry McPhail, president of the New York Yankees. Kansas City is a Yankee farm team.

Fine Success
McKinney said a definite announcement as to Herman's successor would be made today. It was believed McPhail and McKinney discussed terms of Meyer's release from Kansas City. Meyer came up to the majors with the Philadelphia Phillies as a catcher in 1917. His first big minor league managerial job was with Louisville of the American Association in 1926. He has managed a number of minor league clubs, with much better than average success, but never has piloted a major league team.

Hubert Suspended; Dorgan Is Banned

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2.—(INS)—The state athletic commission today ordered a 60-day suspension of Tee Hubert, New York heavyweight, for "failure to put forth his best efforts" in a bout in Pittsburgh. Hubert, who fought Tommy Varos September 16, also was fined $200.

The commission revoked the license of John Dorgan, Pittsburgh fighter manager, "for booking a fighter in another state under an assumed name."

Archie Moore, California heavyweight, had his license revoked in Pennsylvania for failure to appear for a scheduled fight with Dusty Wilkinson of Philadelphia.

A Hazleton promoter—Jimmy Monroe—was suspended for 60 days for staging "unsatisfactory shows."

Governor Designates 'Hunt Safely' Week

HARRISBURG, Oct. 2.—(INS)—Gov. James H. Duff today set aside the week of October 20 as "hunt safely" week and urged Pennsylvania sportsmen to be cautious during the 1947 game season. The governor said "there have been too many" hunting accidents in Pennsylvania during past seasons. The State Game Commission said 337 persons were wounded and 29 killed while hunting last year. "It is extremely important that hunters exercise the greatest of precautions when in the woods and fields," he asserted. "Hunt safely is more important than hunting."

Ellwood Trojans, Corsairs Tangle

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 2.—Ellwood Trojans, with two victories under their belts and nary a point scored against them, will collide with the Pittsburgh Corsairs here tonight at 8:15 o'clock. The game will be played at the high school field.

The Sportsmen club-sponsored juggernaut has flattened the Homewood A. A. of Pittsburgh, 25-0 and the McKeever Vets, also of the Steel City, 32-0.

The Corsairs are rated a top-flight semi-pro outfit and loom as the toughest test so far for the Bill Young-Tom McMurdo combine.

Titan Harriers Defeat Geneva

Westminster's cross country team defeated Geneva yesterday at Geneva College 23 to 32 over a course 3.25 miles long. The course was in fair condition.

Running for Westminster was—Jackson, Yourd, Wilson, Bartkovski, Cassell, Brown, Wakefield and Ophof. Running for Geneva—Blair, Cassky, Perry, Barnes, Nelson, Jim Steele, Newton, and Joe Steele. Jackson, Westminster had the best time 19:15 minutes. The Harold Burry coached Titans won with apparent ease.

Pre-war stars with a year of post-war football behind them form the basis of the current Penn State grid machine.

Shenango-Hopewell Will Use New Field

Shenango High Will Dedicate New Playing Field With Game Friday, 2:15

Hopewell Has Strong Eleven, Shenango "Wildcats" Are Ready For Battle

Shenango High school will open its home football season at its new spacious, and beautiful field Friday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock, by opposing the powerful Hopewell Township team from Aliquippa.

Work of completing the new field is being rushed under the supervision of Supervising Principal Glen Johnston. Plans have been made to have everything in readiness for Friday. Bleachers have been installed for the fans, something new at Shenango.

The Shenango High "Wildcats" are meeting one of the strongest Class B teams in the district in Hopewell. They feature hard running and passing led by Hummel the quarterback and Chalkas the big 200 pound fullback, both three-year men.

Have Veteran Team
Hopewell has a veteran team and recently defeated Zelenople 27 to 0, the team that tripped Shenango 6 to 0 last week. Coach Eddie Nash has announced several lineup changes for this week, both in the line and the backfield.

The Shenango backfield changes will find Harry Zurasky moving to quarter-back with B. Tanner starting at fullback, and Don Parks being shifted to a halfback post. Coaches Nahas, Susko and Dunlap have been hindered in preparation for the Hopewell game by several injuries to key players, but all are expected to see some action Friday.

No doubt a large crowd will attend the field dedication at Shenango Friday, as the "Wildcats" seek to win the first one on the new beautiful layout.

Weather Gloomy In Brooklyn Today

EBBETS FIELD, Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 2.—(INS)—The weather for today's third world series game is somewhat like Brooklyn's morale—gloomy—or to be more explicit, cloudy.

The weather forecast for New York City and vicinity is: Partly cloudy although somewhat warmer than the past two days. Highest temperature around 60 degrees with gentle, moderate winds.

Jim O'Hara and Manny Weaver, both former Penn State grid stars, are in command of junior varsity football at their alma mater.
